2024 CAMPAIGN BRIEF ASIA CREATIVE RANKINGS

Welcome to the 2024 Campaign Brief Asia Creative Rankings. This is the 29th anniversary of the Campaign Brief Asia Creative Rankings which launched way back in 1995 and saw, in the very first year, David Droga and Saatchi & Saatchi Singapore dominate.

The 2024 Campaign Brief Asia Creative Rankings tabulates the results of the big international and regional advertising award shows from January 2023 to December 2024.

205 individual ad agencies won awards across these award shows and each performance is detailed in our Agency Creative Rankings tables. The Hottest Creatives table ranks the copywriters and art directors in Asia based on their award wins at these award shows – The art director, copywriter, creative director, associate creative director credit fields are included. CCO, ECD, national and senior creative director credit fields are not included as the Hottest Creatives table is all about recognising the top art directors and copywriters in Asia. CCOs and ECDs should be judged on the position their agency ranks in their home country and in the overall Asia Agency Creative Rankings.

A total of 2329 individual creatives won awards and are ranked from #1 to #2329.

If you won at any of these award shows from January 2023 to December 2024 then you are listed here in this extensive coverage.

More detailed country breakdown analysis can also be found on campaignbriefasia.com

The award shows that count in the CB Asia Creative Rankings and the other stuff you should be aware of

The 2024 Campaign Brief Asia Creative Rankings tabulates award-winning performances over 2 years from January 1st 2023 to December 31st 2024 at twelve of the most important international and regional award shows.

In total 205 ad agencies throughout Asia are ranked in order of their award wins and our extensive ranking of copywriters, art directors and creative directors ranks all 2,329 creatives that have won awards since January 2023.

The 2024 Campaign Brief Asia Creative Rankings are based solely on creative performances over the 2023 and 2024 calendar years.

If you win an award at one of the shows we include in the Creative Rankings (see list below) – you pick up points. Largely unchanged for 29 years (the Campaign Brief Asia Creative Rankings were launched in Asia in 1995) the Creative Rankings is calculated solely on creative performance at the major regional and international award shows and the points associated with any award win are weighted in terms of difficulty and prestige to win.

There is no Agency of the Year submission or document received from agencies that is then judged. It is based only on the facts – ie. creative award wins.

Importantly, we have always attributed an adjusted points value to each Gold, Silver and Bronze award won by each agency at each award show or festival. Campaign Brief scales award wins against the difficulty of winning and we review each award show, and adjust points, each year.

As has always been the case with the Campaign Brief Asia Creative Rankings, craft award wins (Print, Outdoor, Radio, Film & Digital craft) are not included. The reason is we considered this to be ‘double dipping’ from agencies. For example, highly awarded print campaigns – usually already winners in Print, Outdoor and Design categories – then are entered individually into, and go on to win, multiple craft awards. To include Craft awards skews the results of the Creative Rankings.

READ THIS BIT: Please note that, as with every year since 1995, the Creative Ranking of individual creatives is calculated from the copywriter, art director, creative director, associate creative director credit fields from each award show. Chief Creative Officers, Creative Chairs, Executive Creative Director, National Creative Directors and Senior Creative Director fields are NOT counted. They never have been included (it’s been the same since we introduced the Rankings 30 years ago). These very senior creative leaders get their recognition from the high ranking their agency reaches in the Country Rankings and overall Asia Creative Rankings. If the Creative Chair, ECD, CCO or Senior Creative Director etc is however listed in the copywriter, art director or creatives credit field then they are counted.

The award shows that are tabulated in these 2024 Creative Rankings are from both 2023 and 2024 of the following shows: Cannes Lions; London International Awards; One Show; D&AD; New York Festivals; Clio; MAD Stars; Spikes Asia; Campaign Brief’s THE WORK; AWARD; AdFest. The One Club’s One Asia awards has also been included for the first time. Points from their most recent 2024 awards been included in these Creative Rankings.

See the full points allocation for 2024 award shows below. To view the points allocation for 2023 award shows go to the Campaign Brief Asia website stories.
